Commander's Message Donna J. Mason, AP

Not a good idea

Boating under the influence is not a good idea. We know our SBSPS members are aware, but it might be helpful to have this information to inform others you see on our waters.

The Legislature passed a new bill effective July 23, 2017 giving marine law enforcement officers the authority to impound a vessel if they arrest an operator for boating under the influence and cannot find another qualified operator to take control of the vessel. If an impounded vessel is not redeemed within 15 days, then a foreclosure process can begin. (WA State Parks 8/29 email). It could result in a very expensive happy hour!

Thanks to an article in Northwest Yachting magazine for this information:

The legal blood-alcohol limit is .08 same as for operating an automobile.

Boating under the influence is a gross misdemeanor, punishable by up to a year in jail and a $5,000 fine.

It is legal for passengers to drink alcohol onboard, but they must be 21 years of age and must not have an active role in handling the boat. (And I add, must not be the back-up pilot, in case of emergency.)

Local police officers and the Coast Guard, with probably cause, may ask a captain to submit to a breathalyzer test. Refusal can result in a $1,000 fine and can increase the penalty for boating under the influence.

The U.S. Coast Guard may board your vessel at any time for any reason, with or without probable cause.

We don't pull out beer or wine until we are safely tied up at the dock or anchored for the night. Do note that a boat at anchor requires a sober captain. Someone needs to be able to pilot that boat out of danger.

Also, enough happens when we're sober so if you drink at the dock, be especially careful on docks, narrow side decks and in dinghies.

Flare guns or pyrotechnic visual distress signaling devices are now excluded from the definition of firearm (RCW 9.41.010) as published in a WA State Parks 8/29 email.

Being safe on the water makes boating much more enjoyable!

Merit Marks

Please e-mail to me (donnajmason@gmail.com) what you've done for the squadron to date in 2017 and how many hours you worked for each item. I thank you all for everything, large or small, you have done for the squadron this year. It means a lot and keeps our squadron healthy and thriving.

Looking to 2018

It also is that time of year to think about how you would like to help our squadron next year. The mission of United States Power Squadrons® is to promote recreational boating skills and boating safety through education, hands-on training and civic activities while providing fellowship for members. There are many choices for you. The Nomination Committee soon will reactivate and needs to hear from you so they can build the slate of positions for election in 2018. Contact Paul Rosetter (paul.rosetter@gmail.com) or George Johnson (georgeandsandy@comcast.net) with your area of interest. Thank you!

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM

A place for articles and items of general interest, Jokes, recipes, etc.

New Mukilteo Ferry Dock: If you travel down around Mukilteo, you will see pile drivers setting the pilings for the new ferry dock. They will be lit, just be aware of them. If you are familiar with the area, they will be north of the Silver Cloud Inn in the vicinity of the old Air Force fuel storage area.

San Juan Channel: They are installing and recovering submarine cables in the San Juan Channel between San Juan Landing (Pear Point) on San Juan Island and Lopez Landing (Rock Point) on Lopez Island within the charted cable areas. This work will include diving and support activities. Operations will continue through 15 Oct 17

Dugualla Bay Range Lights: The U.S. Coast Guard will be testing a LED combination lantern system to replace the incandescent lantern at Swinomish Channel South Entrance Range Front Light (LLNR 18820). The change is expected to occur during the fall of 2017. A Broadcast Notice to Mariners will be issued when the change is made. The high intensity beam width will increase from 1° to 3° and the intensity of the beam will be increased. Mariners are encouraged to share comments on the performance and operation of this light and comments should be sent to the email address D13-PF-LNM@uscg.mil. Any discrepancy for these or other Aids to Navigation should continue to be reported to US Coast Guard Sector Puget Sound.

Education Department
P/C Debbie Richey, AP

Great news from the Education Department. We have finished ABC3 and started Seamanship. Cruise Planning will start sometime after the first of the year.

Cruise Planning is a great course to help you plan your cruise. You will learn how to provision, chartering, anchoring, security and other great information. For more information about the course, visit the USPS website. We are going to offer that starting in January.

I hope you all received the e-mail from USPS about a new webinar they are offering, Discover the Secrets of Ocean Currents. It will be broadcast on Tuesday, November 14, at 5 pm PST. I've signed up for it. If you're a slow boat, currents can make a big difference in how fast you will get to your destination and the course you take.

Discover the Secrets of Ocean Currents Our latest webinar, Ocean Currents & Computer Navigation, takes a look at how tidal and ocean currents affect navigation planning before a cruise and while underway.

After a brief history and an overview of current research, you'll learn how currents affect the movement of our oceans, including where to find and how to retrieve tidal current and open ocean current data. You'll learn how to use navigation software before and during a cruise to evaluate what effect the current will have on your route.

Print Your Own Educational Course Completion Certificates

Lt/C Robert J. Miller, JN

National is no longer sending out the Educational Course Completion Certificates and the function has been moved to the www.USPS.org website. Members can print their own certificates by signing into the members side of the USPS website and going to the Member Information Page, then selecting the Show Training History to print their certificates. Here are the steps needed:

1. Open the USPS website in your internet browser, www.USPS.org.
2. Select Member's Log In from the menu bar at the top of the page.
3. In the sign-in page, enter your USPS certificate number and your password or USPS PIN.
 - a. Your certificate number is in the squadron roster sent out quarterly.
 - b. Click on Forgot password if you can't remember your password, then follow the onscreen dialog to create a new one.
4. Check the Remember Me box to make sure that there is a check-mark in it and click the Log in button to get to the Member Home screen.
5. Your member profile is displayed on the right hand of the screen.
6. Check the Manage Profile box to display more profile details, many of which can be changed on the screen.
7. Look for Show Training History in blue type near the heading message and click it.
8. The Training History page opens. Details on how to use the features on the page can be viewed by clicking on How to Use.
9. The traditional full page of course stickers can be printed by clicking on Print an Eddept "Full Certificate". A download PDF file will be presented, usually as an icon at the bottom of your browser window (varies on type of browser).
10. Double click on the PDF icon to open the certificate and print it with the features of your browser's PDF handler or related PDF reader app.
11. Individual course certificates can be printed by selecting the course's abbreviation in the table below Print an Eddept "Full Certificate". The courses you have completed are indicated by light blue text, whereas related functions are shown in black lettering.
12. Again, clicking on the course name's abbreviation will download a PDF file, which should be opened and printed.

While you are in the Members' section, poke around and look at the offerings. Get back to the top level by clicking on Member Home in the top menu bar. A help screen can be seen by clicking the upper left corner's icon of three horizontal bars in a blue field. While at the Home screen, click on Member Benefits to see some of the discounts you can receive by being a USPS member. The How Do I item on the main menu leads to a nice table of the most frequently asked questions and is a good starting place to navigate through the website.

SBSPS Overnight train trip to Vancouver, B.C. Canada

November 11-12, 2017

Join us for an after-cruising-season excursion. I urge you to make your train and hotel reservations sooner than later for the best rates and availability.

Amtrak Make your reservation via www.Amtrak.com or with "Julie" at 800-872-7245. Discounts for AAA members and seniors. Buy your ticket online or with photo ID, get your tickets at the station. As of this writing, cost for two people is US$68 round trip.

Saturday, November 11: Amtrak Cascades Train #510 departs Mt. Vernon (MVN) at 9:26 a.m. (Paul and I will get on the train in Bellingham at 9:57 a.m. Please save us two seats! I'll have trip packets to give to you then.) After clearing customs at the train station, we'll walk a short distance from the Vancouver train station and take public transportation to near our hotels, either check in or at least leave our luggage for safekeeping. We'll be ready for lunch by then.

Saturday activities: Using public transportation,

1. go to Granville Island's shops and galleries, enjoy the cute False Creek ferries. Day pass good for all stops can be purchased on the ferries: Adult CA$16, or Senior over 65 CA$12. More at: <http://www.granvilleislandferries.bc.ca>.
2. stay downtown for exhibits such as:
 - . Vancouver Art Gallery, 750 Hornby Street has a special exhibit "Emily Carr: Into the Forest" 45 British Columbia paintings in the unique style of this Canadian favorite artist. The museum opens at 10 a.m. if you choose to go Sunday. Website: www.vanartgallery.bc.ca. Admission: Adult CA$24, Senior 65+ CA$20.
 - . Vancouver Maritime Museum's "The Lost Fleet" exhibit at 1905 Ogden Avenue at Chestnut and Cypress Streets near the Space Center. The exhibit investigates the unjust 1941 seizure of 1,200 Japanese-Canadian fishing vessels following the bombing of Pearl Harbor through photographs, models, tools and documents. Admission approx.. CA$10. Website: www.vancouvermaritimemuseum.com.
3. Sadly, the harbor cruises end in September/October. Perhaps a day trip in 2018?

Saturday dinner will be at 6:30 p.m. at Joe Fortes Seafood & Chop House, which we enjoyed on our 2015 train trip. Joe Fortes' is located at 777 Thurlow Street near Alberni and Robson Streets. Eat as much or as little as you wish. Website: www.joefortes.ca.

Sunday, November 12: Breakfast on your own. We'll check out of our hotel by Noon. Free time to explore on your own until it is time to meet at the train station. Take public transportation to the train station.

Amtrak Cascades Train #517 leaves Vancouver at 5:35 p.m. and arrives in Mt. Vernon at 8:07 p.m. Be at the station Vancouver Pacific Central, 1150 Station Street by 5 p.m!

HOTELS: Not cheap in Vancouver. Remember our exchange rate advantage. I did several searches and the best I found for my criteria of best comparison rate, reasonable access from train station and public transportation (Sky train preferred), safe downtown neighborhood, safe walk back from restaurant Saturday night, decent amenities, and cancellation policy, was through AAA website (Priceline administered): Paul and I will be staying in a "king studio" at L'Hermitage Hotel, 788 Richards Street, direct website: www.lhermitagevancouver.com. You, of course, are free to choose your own hotel; we'll try to finalize coordinating plans on the train ride north.

TO DO: Before NOVEMBER 5 -- let me know you're coming, what hotel you'll stay in, and if you'll have Saturday dinner with us. I need to make the restaurant reservation.

It'll be rainy season so pack your umbrella and rain jackets. We recommend packing lightly with a backpack or small wheeled suitcase; you may be lugging it around. Don't forget your passports! Please bring your tolerance for possible train delays.

Old Business

- District 16 Photo Contest information was provided to meeting attendees.
- Washington State Parks has asked if we're interested in joining with us to do booth-type duties where both the parks and USPS could be promoted together. No objections were made by members in this regard.
- District 16 requested us to approach the US Coast Guard Auxiliary to see if we can combine on some activities. Some members expressed reservations about working with USCG due to their recent experiences in working with them as of late. Their local flotilla has recently disbanded and they are currently suffering from low membership and burnout. There was additional discussion about the possibility of a joint rendezvous or sharing booths at boating-related events. Donna will report back to D16 that we are open to possibilities.
- Marlene Bellinger moved we make an effort to work with Washington State Parks during 2018. Seconded by Debbie Richey. Motion passed.
- Discussion regarding Shipwreck Day as our primary fundraiser and whether or not we should pursue it in 2018. George reported our storage unit is still very full and we need to have a storage unit cleaning day and that once that occurs, we may not need the storage unit any longer. George suggested we continue with at least one more Shipwreck Day for 2018 to get rid of the remaining items in the storage unit and reminded the group it is still a significant social event for the squadron. Sandy Johnson suggested we don't take any new donations unless they are high ticket items that will be easily sold. Bob Miller reported our finances can definitely continue to handle keeping the storage unit.
 - Marlene Bellinger moved we participate in Shipwreck Day for 2018, but be more selective regarding which items we take as donations. Debbie Richey seconded. Motion passed.

Meeting adjourned @ 1945
